The heart indicates
the most intimate center, where all the multiplicity remains one.

By saying Heart of Jesus, we are evoking
the innermost part of Christ and we want to say that this center is full of the mystery of God

We say that in this Heart, further down
from all our experiences of vacuum,
nothing and death,
infinite love reigns for which God gives Himself.

When we say Heart of Jesus, is this what we believe and confess with all the strength of our hearts.

We confess when we are plunged into anguish.
It's in those moments,
when we should, above all,
with greater reason
look ahead
to the one whose heart has been passed on.
